PERSONAL PROFILE

I am a fast and hard working editor with strong story telling skills and a passion for making compelling television. I work on Avid and Premiere, live in Manchester and work from home or across the northwest.

I have over fifteen years experience as a broadcast video editor. After cutting my teeth as a tech op and Avid editor in the Yorkshire Television newsroom, I have been freelance since 2002, working mostly on factual entertainment, observational documentaries, sport and children's programmes. I work extensively at BBC Media City on shows such as 'The One Show', 'Blue Peter' and 'Match of the Day'.

RECENT CREDITS

'Fraud Squad' Brown Bob Productions, BBC One

Daytime series following investigators tracking down fraudsters stealing from the public purse. I cut offline VT's from rushes and a bank of archive material and generic reconstructions.

'The One Show' BBC Productions, BBC One

Current affairs films for The One Show about subjects such as backlogs in payments of disability allowance and the Silver Line helpline for older people.

'Match Of The Day' BBC Productions, BBC One

I cut down Premier League matches on a fast turnaround to tell the story of the game, adding interviews and graphics to create a broadcast ready highlights package.

'Shoplifters and Scammers: At War With The Law' Crackit Productions, Channel 5

Follows the private security teams catching robbers, thieves and pickpockets across the UK.

'Blue Peter' BBC Productions, CBBC

Offline editing of 5 minute VT's, often pulling together multi-camera self-shot material of Blue Peter presenters bravely taking on daredevil challenges.

'Bosman: The Player Who Changed Football' MOB Sport, BT Sport

David Ginola travels to Belgium to meet Jean Marc Bosman, whose landmark legal battle with football's ruling elite revolutionised the modern game and led to personal tragedy.

'Rip Off Britain: Holidays' BBC Productions, BBC One

Offline editing of 10 minute films telling viewers real life stories of eagerly anticipated holidays turning sour due to bedbugs, hurricanes and non-existent hotels.

'Football Focus' BBC Productions, BBC One

Interviews with Premier League stars such as Mikel Antonio and John Stones. Plus features which could be anything from an obit to news stories about FIFA corruption allegations or historical sex abuse in football.

'Great Escapers' True North Productions, Channel 4

Dramatic and humorous daytime series following expats from around the UK as they set up businesses and begin new lives across Europe.
